

BERTELMANN IS GUILTY

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)

The Federal jury in the case of the United States vs. F. C. Bertelmann returned a verdict of guilty as charged on both counts of the indictment at 6:15 last evening. The jury was out for a very short time. Judge Dole set next Tuesday for sentence. The jury incorporated in their verdict a recommendation to the court for mercy.

Assistant United States District Attorney J. J. Dunne handled the case for the government in an admirable manner. The case was a difficult one, and despite the interminable objections of defendant's counsel, trying both the court's and Mr. Dunne's temper, the district attorney came out victorious. L. Straus and Harry Mossman appeared for the defendant.

The case grew out of the defendant making representations to Chinese and Japanese that he was getting up a directory. It was charged also that he collected money from Japanese on the ground that he was a Federal officer. His victims were frequently poor Japs whose ignorance led them to pay over small sums. Some were pig-raiders and they were told that the money collected was the tax required by the government for engaging in that business.

Damaging testimony was given yesterday by two Japanese victims. One stated that Bertelmann had visited him at his pig-ranch at Moiliili and had collected money for an ad. Mr. Dunne showed a copy of Husted's directory and asked whether that was the book which Bertelmann had shown him. The witness answered in the affirmative.

Then Mr. Straus asked another Japanese witness if Mr. Shiozawa, who is the official Japanese interpreter during the present federal term of court, had not visited him about two weeks ago and questioned him about what he knew of the Bertelmann case. He answered in the affirmative. Mr. Straus smiled grimly and walked into a trap. Assuming a theatrical air, Mr. Straus finally said: "Then Mr. Shiozawa, who is the official interpreter in this court, went to you in the capacity of a private interpreter in a case and as a detective, and —"

By this time Mr. Dunne had risen and offered an objection. He thought out the next data with cold precision. "The counsel for the defendant did not ask the witness whether he accompanied Mr. Shiozawa when he conversed with this witness, and he did not ask whether a stenographer was taken along and that I asked the witness the questions." The jurors smiled, and the court smiled, and Mr. Dunne smiled too. Mr. Straus did not.

THE KANEALII CASE.
While the Supreme Court has decided that the election of Mr. Kanealii as a supervisor of the county of Kauai was valid, the justices state that if Mr. Kanealii was implicated in the forgery of the names on his nomination papers and should be convicted, then the office might doubtless be vacated or he be ousted under the provisions of section 18 of the Organic Act. The suit was brought by C. H. Willis, Kanealii's opponent during the election.

GARVIE ANSWERS.
The answer of the respondent in the quo warranto proceedings of Walter C. Peacock vs. Alex. Garvie, has been filed in the circuit court. Mr. Garvie admits that Mr. Peacock is now a stockholder in the corporation known as W. C. Peacock & Co., Ltd., and that 550 shares of the capital stock representing the par value of $55,000, are now in the Treasury of said company unissued and not entitled to vote. He neither admits or denies that Peacock was duly and regularly elected as president and ex-officio a director of said company at a meeting of the company held on July 27, 1899, and leaves the petitioner to his proof thereof.

He admits that since September 15, 1905, he has excluded and now excludes petitioner from the office of president and ex-officio a director of the said company.

WANTS TO COMPROMISE.
Carlos A. Long, administrator-debonis-non-with-the-will-annexed of the estate of Robert William Holt, deceased, has filed a motion in the Circuit Court for authority to compromise with John F. Colburn, who is the investment on property at Kapahulu, Waikiki, concerning the loan which has accrued to the estate from the investment of its funds, to wit, $2500, heretofore loaned by Henry Smith, Mr. Long's predecessor, to Jesse P. Makainai. The loss amounts to $2000.

EXECUTION UNSATISFIED.
Henry Smith, clerk of the Supreme Court, who filed, on October 27, a notice to the High Sheriff, or the Sheriff of Maui, that an execution be levied on property of John Richardson, in the action of W. O. Smith vs. John Richardson et al., to recover $275.14, has been returned by High Sheriff Henry unsatisfied.

RECEIPTS ARE FILED.
Receipts for the distribution of the estate of Ely Peck, deceased, have been received from the legatees and filed in the Circuit Court. Carl Pick of Graetz, Germany, acknowledges receipt of $450.71 less $22.54 collateral inheritance tax; Robert Peck, of 10 East 118th street, New York City, for $360.57, less $18.03 inheritance tax, and Carl Pick for Ernestine Baberski of Graetz, for $450.72, less $22.54 inheritance tax.

BEACH SALE APPROVED.
F. Wundenberg, commissioner appointed to sell property in the foreclosure of mortgage proceedings in George W. Macfarlane vs. the Waikiki Beach Hotel, Ltd., filed his report yesterday. He set forth that George W. Macfarlane purchased the property for $10,000. The costs amounted to $284.65. The sale has been confirmed by Judge Robinson.

Judge Lindsay gave a decision yesterday on defendant's bill of exceptions in the case of Y. O. Kanoto vs. Tong Kat Toi for summary possession of a house in Koolauloa, Oahu, was denied yesterday by Judge De Bell.

Augusta J. Camara, libellee in the divorce action brought by J. A. Camara, has filed an answer, admitting the marriage but denying every other allegation.

The Supreme Court yesterday decided the case of the Pioneer Mill Co. vs. E. H. Hart and Mose Meheula.

COURT NOTE.
The hearing in the matter of the investigation of the claim of John Ena against the New York Life Insurance Co., set for next Thursday, has been postponed till further notice.

WANT WHITES IN HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Active efforts have been begun on the part of the Government of the Hawaiian Islands to induce immigration from the United States and Europe. The necessity for this course was recognized some time ago by the Government of the islands and an immigration board was appointed by the Governor. The chairman of this board, A. L. C. Atkinson, who is also Secretary of the Territory of Hawaii, is now in this country for the purpose of attending the immigration session of the Civic Federation to be held in New York.

Mr. Atkinson today consulted at length regarding his mission with Mr. Sargent, Commissioner-General of Immigration. He has decided to present the inducements his Government has to offer in the way of homesteads to settlers, both to Americans and to immigrants landing in this country, as well as to the principal Eastern countries. Large tracts of land have been set aside for settlers of this class. The productiveness of the land and the climatic conditions will be described as additional inducements to immigration.

It is stated that the policy long adhered to in the islands, dictated by the large plantation-owners, to confine immigration to the Chinese and Japanese, is to be changed completely and that the plantation-owners are acquiescing in this change.

Mr. Atkinson left Washington for New York today. At the conclusion of the Civic Federation meeting he will sail for Europe.

GOVERNOR GUEST OF ADMIRAL.
The cruiser Chicago, flagship of the Pacific squadron, with its commander-in-chief, Admiral Goodrich and Governor Carter aboard, sailed for Hilo yesterday at 4:20 p. m. As the Governor stepped on board, a salute of seventeen guns was fired.

The cruiser will remain at Hilo while the Admiral and the Governor and their party visit the volcano and will bring them back to Molokai, where they will disembark for a shooting tramp, Sunday the U. S. S. Iroquois will go to Molokai and bring the party back to Honolulu, the cruiser meantime continuing on her return trip to this port.

WHAT IT WILL DO.

A woman buys a sewing machine for what it will do; not as an article of furniture. A man carries a watch to tell him the time; not as an investment of surplus capital. The same principle when one is ill. We want the medicine or the treatment which will relieve and cure. The friend in need must be a friend indeed, something, or somebody, with a reputation. There should be no guesswork in treating disease. People have the right to know what a medicine is, and what it will do, before they take it. It must have behind it an open record of benefit to others for the same diseases, a series of cures that proves its merit and inspires confidence. It is because it has such a record that WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION is bought and used without hesitation or doubt. Its Good Name is the solid basis for the faith the people have in it; and a good name has to be earned by good deeds. It does what you have a right to expect it to do. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. In Scrofula, Anemia, Nervous and General Debility, Influenza and Wasting Complaints, it is to be thoroughly relied upon. Doctor J. L. Carrick says: "I have had remarkable success with it in the treatment of Consumption, Chronic Bronchitis, Catarrh and Scrofulous Affections. It is of special value in nervous prostration and depraved nutrition; it stimulates the appetite and the digestion, promotes assimilation, and enters directly into the circulation with the food. I consider it a marvelous success in medicine. Every dose effective. You cannot be disappointed in it." Sold by chemists throughout the world.

DISCUSSING THE TOURIST BUSINESS

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)

"What is being accomplished in the tourist business?" asked Mr. Spalding at yesterday's meeting of the Hawaii Promotion Committee.

"I think the outlook is bright," replied Secretary Wood, cheerily. "I have no hesitation in saying so. It is, of course, hard to say just what has been accomplished."

"An important suggestion made to me by Mr. Stevenson, the proprietor of a large hotel in Colorado Springs, and who is now visiting Honolulu, is that if the steamship companies can only be induced to establish a basic round-trip rate of, say $100, it would undoubtedly make a vast difference in the amount of traffic to the islands. If the price were but $100 it would appeal more generally to the traveling public."

"Travelers would not care what the special prices might be on the steamer itself, and some would not mind paying a large extra sum for certain stateroom accommodations, but the basic price of a ticket at $100 is what Mr. Stevenson believes would make the best appeal for the island trip."

The Secretary went on to say that he had received letters from Mr. Mullen, assistant manager of the Palace hotel, San Francisco, in which he stated that interest in Hawaii was largely increasing. Mr. Wood stated that people were not traveling much during the holidays, but after the holidays, travel should be on the increase.

A letter was read from J. P. Ball, formerly an attorney in Honolulu, but now established in Seattle in the law business, giving some valuable pointers on attracting tourists from the northwest, especially those from Alaska who come down to Seattle and Portland in the winter time to spend their fortunes and have a good time. Mr. Ball will be thanked for his suggestions and next spring, Mr. Wood, who may possibly make a trip into the northwest, will have a talk with him. Mr. Wood proposes to take from five to six weeks on a trip in Washington, Oregon, and make an effort to arouse interest in Hawaii as a winter resort.

Mr. Ball's letter was as follows:
MR. BALL'S LETTER.
Seattle, Wash., Dec. 5, 1905.
To the Chairman and Members of the Hawaii Promotion Committee.

Gentlemen: I have read with much interest the initial statement to your Committee of Mr. H. P. Wood, your new and wide-awake secretary, and its perusal has suggested a thought to my mind that may be of value, and which, with your indulgence, I will briefly present.

As you are aware, Seattle is the terminus of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern railways, and also the terminus, by traffic arrangements, for the Canadian Pacific, the Burlington, and the Union Pacific systems.

It is also the home port of Jim Hall's mammoth steamers, the Minnesota and Dakota, which go to and returning from the Orient carry large numbers of tourists. Several other lines to the Orient of lesser carrying capacity, also make regular trips from Seattle and Vancouver, B. C.

In addition thereto, there are more than a score of large steamers plying between this port and numerous points in Alaska that carry to and fro thousands of passengers yearly. In fact, Seattle is a great focal point for a very large and constantly increasing traveling public, whereas rendezvous at all times of the year, but especially in winter, several thousand people of leisure and means, who are ever on the lookout for some congenial place where they may while away the time either in quest of pleasure or health. Aside from the constant and increasing influx of the general traveling public into Seattle, there are domiciled here each winter several thousand Alaskans of means, who come hither to radiate herefrom to outside places where they may enjoy themselves and spend their accumulations as may best suit their fancy.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer in a recent article estimated that no fewer than three thousand Alaskans were then in this city to spend the winter either here or elsewhere, and when it is remembered that they are generally people of large and ample means out for a good time, and to spend money freely, it must be conceded that their patronage is well worth contending for.

I do know that there is a very general demand here for facts and figures concerning the Hawaiian Islands by people of means and leisure, who are casting about for an acceptable objective point.

Since my return here last February from Honolulu, I have been besieged by a large number of people to furnish general and specific information pertaining to the climate, hotel facilities, health qualities, pleasure opportunities, cost of trip, cost of living, and other details of the Hawaiian Islands, all of which I have endeavored to answer in the fullest manner possible out of a stock of information gained by a residence of more than two years in Honolulu.

It has often occurred to me that your Committee is making a great mistake in not reckoning with, and reaching out for, the throng of tourists who make Seattle their rendezvous, or point of departure. Aside from San Francisco and Los Angeles, there is no place where more missionary work could be profitably done to secure tourists for your islands, than at Seattle. Here there is an ever pushing and surging throng of people eager to go where they can get the most for their time and money, and in further view of the fact that two more transcontinental railways are now rapidly building towards Seattle, it will be wise to be up and doing in order to gather the cream of the pleasure seekers, who by force of circumstances will necessarily gravitate and congregate here. Tourists are captured by that resort which makes the biggest, best and loudest showing, and not always by the place that has really the most alluring attractions. Without doubt the Hawaiian Islands are an ideal place for tourists seeking health, recreation, rest, pleasure and sight-seeing, but there must be a strong, vigorous and unceasing effort to bring their merits, advantages and inducements before the eyes, and to the ears of the traveling world, and this must be done by hard work and much loud noise. It is not the province of this communication to tell you how to get tourists, but simply to call your attention to an important focal and distributing point where much good work may be done and beneficial results derived, and which your Committee, I surmise, has overlooked.

I can but add that I will be pleased to do all that I can to assist in the good work which your Committee is so auspiciously promoting, and it will afford me pleasure to place at your disposal, if you so desire, such spare room in my offices—which by the way are located on Pioneer Square, whereat are domiciled the principal ticket offices of the railroad and steamship companies centering in Seattle—as may be available.

To enlarge and more successfully carry out the work which your Committee is so successfully handling, I would suggest that you establish here, as soon as possible, an information bureau wherein shall be placed suitable literature, island pictures of note, pictures of leading hotels, and other objects of interest to inquiring tourists, and that someone familiar with the islands be placed in charge thereof to receive callers, answer questions, give general information and distribute literature where it will do the most good.

An office somewhere on Pioneer Square, whereat as mentioned above are located the principal ticket offices, would be an excellent place for the purpose of this work, and if the same could be secured adjacent to some other office already equipped with a corps of attendants, the cost of conducting the same could be reduced to a minimum. I would say that as above outlined, about fifty dollars per month could cover rent of office, services of an efficient person to overlook same and attend to callers, etc.

There would, of course, be a small initial outlay for a table and a few chairs, for transparency to hang over office windows, etc., in order to make the office presentable.

The Canadian-Australian Line will soon have large and luxurious steamers on its run, which will add largely to the means of reaching and returning from Honolulu, which in addition to one or more contemplated lines from hereabouts that will also touch at Honolulu, will make Seattle a most desirable and suitable place to locate an auxiliary branch of your Committee.

Should your Committee desire further information or action on my part in the premises, I shall be pleased to render all the assistance possible.

Much of the prosperity in store for the islands must be derived from that enormous and increasing army of tourists who are ever on the lookout for congenial retreats offering proper inducements. The fact that the Hawaiian Islands offer superior inducements to the pleasure and health seeking public, is not in itself sufficient notice thereof to the world—something more is necessary, and the efficient work of your committee and able assistants is solving and will continue to solve the problem, and soon, as a result of your wise, systematic and persistent efforts, Hawaii will become the Mecca of thousands of tourists, who will fructify its every artery by a steady inflow of financial blood and new ideas, and then, indeed, will a full fruition of your most sanguine hopes be realized. Very respectfully,

J. P. BALL.

A LACE INDUSTRY.
Bishop Restarick appeared before the Committee at the opening of the meeting with a letter from Locke & Altherr of New York, prominent importers of lace work, in which the firm called attention to the making of lace collars by the women of Japan, and suggesting that perhaps women here might do the same, the firm agreeing to take the product and dispose of it. The Bishop showed samples of the work done by the Japanese. He stated, however, he had heard these collars were sold in Honolulu for 25 to 35 cents apiece. This was with duty added. He did not believe that women here could afford to make them so cheaply.

The secretary stated he had arranged with Mr. Dole of Washington to have pineapples from his plantation sent on to Los Angeles, San Diego and San Francisco to be attractively displayed during the holidays in store windows, decorated with holly and suitably placard. It was designed to have the fruit eventually find its way to the newspaper offices in the hope that Hawaii would receive the benefit of a little free advertising.

THE OTHER ISLANDS.
Letters from the Hilo Board of Trade, from Lihue and Maui, answering the request that promotion work be taken up on the other islands, were read. Each signified a desire to cooperate with the Honolulu committee.

W. O. Aiken of Makawao, Maui, enclosed a schedule for an "Around-Maui" trip by stage, horseback and train, taking in the old crater of Haleakala, costing $5.35 for each person. A letter from Chairman Smith of the County Supervisors was read. This outlined the street and road work which the supervisors had authorized to be done in the near future. This has already been told of in this paper. Mr. Lowrey stated that King Street in Kailua was receiving much attention. In some places fences were being moved back and the street repaved.

Mr. Coffey of the Rapid Transit car service called the committee's attention to the much-advertised "Home-Coming" celebration to take place in Kailua in the summer of 1906. He intended going there and offered to help the promotion work while in attendance.

George Lycourus of the Volcano House, asked permission to establish a young man in the promotion room to give information concerning the Volcano House to all tourists who visited there. The secretary will take up the matter with Mr. Lycourus.

Vice Chairman Gartley said that with the establishment of the Kinai in the Kaula service, the Garden Isle might prove an attraction for tourists. It was only a single night run, and many nice trips can be arranged on the island.

D. Howard Hitchcock, the artist, is preparing a painting of the volcano, which will be exhibited in a small room in the promotion office and displayed under electric lights.

The selection of representative of the Promotion Committee to attend the "See America First" tourist conference in Salt Lake in January, has not been decided yet. Unless a member of the proposed Washington delegation could stop off en route, some one at Salt Lake may have to be appointed.

CITY IMPROVEMENT.
Concerning city improvement work, Mr. Lowrey stated that the cutting of trees by the electric light and telephone companies should be done under the careful supervision of some one from the Board of Agriculture and Forestry. The indiscriminate use of the hatchet and axe in the hands of a line man has frequently produced results not in accord with the desire to make Honolulu beautiful. Mr. Gartley for the Electric Light Company said his company would be glad to notify the government nursery whenever they contemplated cutting into any trees.

Mr. Spalding presented a draft of the division of the city into sub-sections to be supervised by responsible men in such sections. The matter will be brought up at next week's meeting and acted on definitely. The draft has been compiled at infinite cost of labor on the part of Mr. Spalding.

It was announced that Mr. Robinson, the New York park expert, who is to come to Honolulu to plan a general park scheme, can leave his home after the first of February or the first of March. He has been cabled to leave in February if possible.

The secretary stated that Archdeacon Jeffries was planning to leave for the mainland soon. He advised furnishing the archdeacon with colored lantern slides of Honolulu and Hawaiian scenes, as he was preparing a lecture on the Hawaiian Islands. The archdeacon was commended for his zeal in the matter.

THE NAVAL FUNERAL.

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)
An impressive military funeral was held yesterday over the remains of the late Dr. D. O. Lewis, Fleet Surgeon of the Pacific squadron.

The program as outlined in the Advertiser was carried out to the letter. After the body had been deposited in the Catholic cemetery receiving vault, it was later removed to the Ventura and is now on its way to meet the sorrowing widow and daughter of the naval officer.

The funeral was attended by Captain Lyon, commandant of the Naval Station of Hawaii and several army officers as well as by Admiral Goodrich and the officers of the cruiser-ship Chicago. A. Gartley, a former comrade in the navy, also attended among others.

When the casket enclosing the remains of the late Fleet Surgeon Lewis, U. S. N., of the Chicago, was placed aboard the S. S. Ventura yesterday for shipment to the Coast, the Hawaiian band played "There is a Land That is Fairer than Day," while everyone on the wharf uncovered.

"Grateful Results"
A life of suffering and misery, without sleep, without appetite. Restored to health by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was grievously afflicted with biliousness and liver complaint. My mouth was in a terrible condition every morning, my tongue thick coated, my breath was offensive."

sive, food distressed me, I suffered much from headache, my skin was sallow, and the many remedies recommended me did no good. At last I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and my improvement began almost from the first dose. It relieved the distress about my liver, caused my food to digest well, cured my headache, improved my complexion, and restored my appetite. These unlooked-for but grateful results were accomplished by only two and a half bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Mrs. Lydia M. Tabor, Albion, Pa.

There are many limitations Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get "AYER'S."

THE LOBBY IN FAVOR

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)

At 3 o'clock this morning the sub-committee of the Merchants' Association and Chamber of Commerce will probably settle definitely upon the personnel of the delegation which is to go to Washington to look after Hawaii's interests.

All day yesterday there was some uncertainty as to what would be the outcome of the proposition, but last evening there appeared to be a concrete opinion that a delegation would be chosen today.

It is felt that if a delegation goes to the national capital the members should do their missionary work among the proper committees of both the Senate and House and after so paying the way, return home. It was also suggested that toward the finish Governor Carter should go on and make a clean sweep of the matter. This idea seems to have taken ground and may possibly be adopted.

As to publicity it has been pretty well conceded that a press representative should accompany the delegation. It has also been suggested that such a person be sent on in advance and get the subject into the papers, especially at Washington, a feature which is not lost sight of by delegations hailing from other portions of the country, where the methods of dealing with Congress are better understood. A further suggestion is that if Governor Carter goes on, he might be well accompanied by his chief clerk, Mr. Buckland, whose ability as a press representative is well-known.

Mr. Lowrey stated yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Promotion Committee that the delegation would probably leave Honolulu on January 5.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, the sub-committee, comprising Messrs. Lowrey, Kennedy, Tenney Peak, W. W. Harris and F. W. Macfarlane, held a conference on the matter with the Governor.

Most of the gentlemen mentioned as possibilities for the delegation have said "No!" to the query as to whether they would accept the billet. In the interest of the islands in general, it is suggested that the sub-committee on deciding just who are available for that delegation should take no "Noes."

The delegation, it is presumed, will have representation from both political parties. The Democrats have endorsed County Treasurer Trent and E. A. McNerny, either of whom is looked upon as especially qualified for the work. Other names still in the list of possibilities are W. O. Smith, J. R. Galt, Geo. W. Smith, W. W. Harris, H. P. Baldwin, J. A. Kennedy and H. P. Wood.

It is thought that after the delegation appears before the committees and leaves its impress upon the members, the intermediate work will be carried on faithfully by the Delegate J. Kalaniana'ole, his secretary, Geo. B. McClellan, and F. M. Hatch, S. M. Ballou, Secretary Atkinson, Treasurer Campbell, R. C. A. Peterson and many others either at present on the mainland or en route are certain to be in Washington in the next month or so and can add their voice to the missionary work done by the official delegation.

"What Hawaii wants to do is to have a body of men sent on to Washington to look after Congress, and such men as B. F. Dillingham, Walter Dillingham, E. A. McNerny, W. W. Harris, J. R. Galt, Robert Shingle, and men who have statistics at their fingers' ends all the time and can rattle them off in a sociable and convincing way."

This is the parting injunction of R. C. A. Peterson, the broker, who departed yesterday on the Ventura for the mainland, en route to New York on a business trip. Mr. Peterson was armed with a long roll of tracing paper on which was a map of several properties he has on tap to sell in New York.

"Those are up-to-date men and can mingle with congressmen in an easy, affable way and get along with them. There's one thing certain, a congressman doesn't want somebody's card sent in to him and then come out and meet a man who sees and talks only of the dry business side of things. Unless he has the sociable manner with him, he's not going to make much headway with a congressman. I know the breed pretty well. I guess I know as many senators and congressmen as any man in Hawaii, and know them pretty well, too."

Mr. Peterson will return to Honolulu about the end of January.

AN ATTACK OF CROUP WARDED OFF.

"Our little girl, two and one-half years old, woke up coughing with the croup one evening recently. We happened to have some of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on hand and gave her two doses of it. She went back to sleep and woke up next morning without a trace of cold. It is certainly a great medicine," says A. J. Luginbill, editor of Star, Villa Rica, Georgia, U. S. A. An attack of croup can always be warded off by giving this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail. It contains no harmful drug and may be given to the smallest child with perfect confidence. For sale by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

Territorial Treasurer Campbell departed on the Ventura yesterday for New York to dispose of the new issue of bonds recently approved by Secretary of the Treasury Shaw. The announcement that Mr. Campbell was to go East was made during the forenoon. The issue involves $100,000 worth of Territory of Hawaii bonds. The preliminaries were arranged by Secretary Atkinson, and now the Treasurer will dispose of them in the eastern market. He prefers that they be disposed of at private sale.
